

WILL QUIT POSITION HERE LAST OF AUGUST

Prof. J. G. Pentz Prepares to Begin State
School Work

TEN MEMBERS ON STAFF

Will Work With State Board
of Education; Harrisburg
to be Residence

In order to take up his new duties as State High School inspector on September 1, Prof. James G. Pentz, superintendent of the Charleroi schools, will relinquish his present position the last day of this month. He has just received official notification from Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, of his appointment to the State position and in turn has notified the Charleroi school board of his intention to leave on August 31.

Prof. Pentz and his family will probably move to Harrisburg. He will work directly under the department of Public Instruction, which consists of the superintendent, Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer; two deputies, Reed B. Tetrick of Jefferson county and Archibald D. Glenn of Armstrong county; four High School inspectors, C. D. Koch, of Center county, Thomas S. March of Greensburg, Westmoreland county; W. M. Denison of Bradford county and Prof. Pentz; and also three experts in agricultural, industrial and drawing education. There are ten members of the staff and a number of clerks and stenographers.

Not only will his new position give Prof. Pentz a broader field in which to work, and give him a place of influence in the State, but it will also reimburse him better than did the superintendency of the Charleroi schools. He has been the head of the Charleroi schools for three years. Elected to serve two years of the unexpired term of Prof. W. D. Wright, he proved so efficient that he was elected to a new term, on which he has served one year.

During his incumbency here Prof. Pentz has effected a number of improvements in the schools. The High School enrollment has been increased from less than 50 to about 130, and the High School course has been changed from three to four years. A number of innovations have been tried, and in fact many of the new school plans now being tried successfully in Pittsburgh by Superintendent Heeter had their first test here. The average who enter and pass through the eighth grade has been increased considerably and is now one in every four. Prof. Pentz worked hard to get the new school building, which is to be built this fall under way.

The one unpleasant feature of his new position, Prof. Pentz states, is the fact that he will have to leave Charleroi. He has become a leader in civic affairs, and his departure will be sincerely regretted.

Miss Nell Dagnall and Albert McFeeley returned home last evening from Butler, Pa., after visiting the former's sister, Mrs. W. J. Lester.

Will Teach at Normal

First Acceptance Comes in of List of Instructors Recently Elected

Of the new teachers elected in the California Normal faculty one has notified Principal Heeter of her acceptance. Miss Edith Bowman, of Knox, who was named as assistant teacher of German and instructor in physical culture has notified the principal that she will accept the position. Miss Bowman comes well recommended and is qualified to coach the basketball team and the track team and also takes charge of the physical culture department for women.

PUTTING IN NEW FILTERS

Charleroi Water Company Increasing Capacity of Plant

WILL HAVE NEW PUMPS

Four new filters are being installed at the filtration plant of the Charleroi Water company on McKean avenue at the south end of town. Two new pumps and a new boiler are to be installed shortly also, the company increasing the capacity of the plant throughout to enable them to care properly for the additional trade which will be the result when Monessen and Donora mains are connected up.

When completed there will be ten filters in place. The new filters will have a capacity of 5,000,000 gallon of water a day, or about 2,000,000 gallons above what will be demanded by Donora and Monessen.

Of the new pumps to be installed one will be a low service and one a high service. The low service pumps will have a capacity of 4,000,000 gallons of water a day and the high service of 5,000,000 gallons. A new siding has been constructed at the water plant branching off from the railroad enabling the water company to receive its new material at the point where it is to be installed.

Charleroi will not only be the central distributing point of water for the three towns, but will also contain the general office for the three towns. Collections will be made in Monessen and Donora by real estate men.

Picnic in the Pines.

The women of the Christian Temperance Union will have a picnic and ten cent social at the Pines Tuesday August 13, commencing at 2 o'clock. All are cordially invited. 317-41

NEW YARDS TO BE BUILT AT FAYETTE

Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Getting Ready to Institute Service Over New Line
to Connellsville

Day and night men are engaged on the work of constructing the new Pittsburgh and Lake Erie yards at Fayette City, along the route that goes through there to Connellsville, where connection is made with the Western Maryland trains to and from Cumberland, Md. The first freight train recently passed over the route. Passenger service will be instituted this fall.

At the new yards, a new track is being constructed to accommodate northbound trains from the foot of Fording street, Fayette City, which necessitates the building of a wooden trestle over Johnson's run. Northbound trains will make a detour of the new yard, the track bearing in another direction. The southbound track will hug the river bank. Between the two tracks there will be a number of tracks for switching.

It is understood that a new passenger station will be built at Fayette City of brick to take the place of the old wooden structure. Incidental with the opening up of their new tracks to Connellsville the P. & L. E. has installed telephone service for train dispatching.

TRACK IN GOOD SHAPE FOR MEET

Sandy Plains Fair to be Better Than for Years--Extra Housing Provided

MANY HORSES ON SCENE

The final arrangements for the Sandy Plains fair Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week have been completed. More than a score of men have been at work during the past week preparing the grounds and now everything has been placed in excellent condition. The track was never in better shape and all that is necessary now for fast racing is good weather.

More than $2,200 has been offered in the speed department and this alone is attracting much attention among the horsemen and followers of the sport. The first class racing and the two aeroplane flights each day of the fair are expected to draw large crowds each day.

It is understood that the birdmen who fly the two days of the fair will 'plane to Brownsville, Waynesburg and Washington.

VENTILATION IS IMPROVED

County's Own Plant Provides Better Air and
Better Conditions

Controller John Moffitt is of the opinion that the ventilation of the county buildings will be much better since the lighting plant has been started. For the past few years complaints have been made about the poor ventilation of the jail. The workmen putting the county plant into operation have explained the cause stating that all of the air pulled from the jail and court house was returned as it had no outlet.

These men stated that when the county plant was not in operation the large stack which is the outlet for the foul air and the warm or impure air from the jail could not find an outlet through the big stacks as the cold air was much heavier than the warm air. When court opens next week the machinery will be tested out to find if the ventilation in the county buildings will not be better.

CONTRACTORS START WORK AT BENTLEYVILLE

Contractor Frank Underwood of Monongahela begins work this week on the erection of a three story brick building for the Bentleyville Improvement Co., of Bentleyville. The ground floor of the new building will be used for store rooms while the two upper stories will be used as a theatre and will be modern in every respect.

FARM EXPERT COMING HERE

Arrangements Made for Agriculturist--Meeting Called
for This Month

CONTRACT IS DELAYED

An interesting meeting of those working to have a government farm expert located in Washington county was held in the Board of Trade rooms Saturday afternoon, says the Washington Observer. Although it was expected to make final arrangements there, has been a delay in securing the contract from the agricultural department of United States, at Washington, D. C., and until this arrives the committee and those working for the movement can do nothing further.

It is thought the document from the government will arrive within a short time and a meeting has been called for Saturday, August 24. The farm expert is practically assured, however.

The Agricultural Bureau of the trade board has already guaranteed an annual sum of $1,200 with a strong probability of being able to raise $1,500. The government is to set aside an amount equal to that raised here and the Crop Improvement Association of Chicago has notified Secretary Dudderar of the Board of Trade, that as soon as the local scheme is assured it will turn over $1,000 annually for the same purpose. This means that Washington county will have between $3,500 and $4,000 to devote to up-to-date and modern agricultural exploitation.

The final details are now up to the Agricultural Department of the United States government, but it is assured that the expert will be located here. It is understood that a man has already been selected and endorsed by the Pennsylvania State department and that the details of the project will be closed up just as soon as the national congressional appropriation bill is signed by the president and becomes a law.

CHANGES MADE IN AVERAGES

Episcopals Fourth in Church League Standing--Christians Gain in Position

A somewhat different complexion has been put on Church League affairs by a team average compiled by Secretary Paul Ryland. The average includes all the games played to date. Some were those upon which the executive committee has reached decisions. The first three teams are unchanged by the correct average. The Episcopals come into fourth place and the Christians are in fifth. The Methodists come into fifth and are tied for sixth position. The Lutherans bring up the rear. Following are the authenticated averages,

Insurance Agent in Jail Receives Notice That He is Heir to $60,000

When his term in the Washington county jail is completed Tony Kardos, who was formerly an insurance agent at Dunkirk and who has just come into a fortune of approximately $60,000, expects to buy a farm near Washington, put on it some good horses and settle down to the hardest kind of hard work.

Tony came into his good fortune through a kindness to his aunt, Sanna Kardos. When she was in bad straits at one time he drew his savings out of a Washington bank and forwarded the money. Kardos was convicted of embezzlement in connection with the payment of policies.

THIEVES BAFFLED AT WORK

Small Penknife Not Enough to Cut Big
Hole in Door

CAR IS BROKEN OPEN

Would-be robbers found cutting through a heavy door with a small penknife a bigger job than they thought and as a result the Adams Express company's office here escaped being burglarized Saturday night. Some time during the night a start was made to cut through the door opening on the railroad side of the office in the Charleroi Hotel building. After making an opening about two inches in diameter the burglars evidently gave up in disgust, and threw the knife with which they were working away. Fear of being discovered might have lent speed to their feet in getting away.

On Saturday night it is said a car was broken open near the store of Monack Bros. store and a quantity of stuff taken understood to have been consigned to the Monack wholesale house. It is stated Monack Bros. lost through a robbery several days ago.

Four Arrests Made.

Four arrests were made by the police Saturday, all on the usual charge of drunkenness. One of the persons arrested was a man said to have suffered from an attack of delirium tremens. It was necessary to get the doctor twice for him. He was doctored up and told to leave town. This morning he turned up again, still fit property for the police to care for.

ROUTE BEING SURVEYED

West Penn Interests at Back
of Movement; Have Right
of Way to Monongahela

Surveyors and rights-of-way men will be at work in a few days it is understood on a subsidiary of the West Penn Electric company from the Monongahela valley to Washington. Last week the final obstacle in the way of beginning active work was removed when a charter was granted at Harrisburg to the Washington Traction company and the Ellsworth and Washington Street railway company, mention of which was made in Saturday's issue of the Mail.

The charters recite that the former is to build 11 1-2 miles of track in Washington and has a capital of $10,000, and that the Ellsworth line is to construct 14 miles of track, from Washington to Ellsworth, and has a capital of $85,000. The incorporators in each instance are: J. W. Warrick, Charles S. Caldwell, I. E. Paul, L. S. Vowell and F. B. McKinley all of Washington. The companies are taking out the charters for the West Penn Traction company, which will build the line from the county seat to Monongahela.

An ordinance was passed by the Washington council granting a franchise to the Washington Traction company over the borough streets, on June 17. September 17 is the last date on which this franchise may be accepted. It is understood that with the charters granted the company will accept the ordinance and hasten its work. The Pittsburgh Railways company objected to the charters being granted.

According to present plans the route through to Washington will be almost direct from Ellsworth and Bentleyville. An affiliated company has been working up the local end, and engineers have been surveying a line from Monongahela to Ellsworth. These engineers are to be moved to the section between Ellsworth and Washington. Most of the rights of way have been taken up it is understood between Monongahela and Ellsworth.

Charleroi will benefit in the event the proposed line is built. The West Side Street Railways company is building a line through Bentleyville and Ellsworth at the present time, and will eventually connect it up with the Charleroi line. This will give direct connection with the county seat.

MOTOR CRUSHES MINER TO DEATH

August Gail, a miner aged 36 years was killed in the Crescent mine at California Saturday. He was working in a room by himself when a motor pushed a trip of cars in on him. He was crushed to death. Gail's home was at Red Hill near California where he and his wife and two children reside. Coroner James Heffran will hold an inquest this evening.

SHAKE THEM LOOSE.

It is unfortunately true, just as it is notoriously true, that selfishness and personal advancement are the motives behind most of those who are just now making the most noise in politics, county, State and nation.

W. H. Berry, the Democratic candidate for State treasurer of Pennsylvania, is a striking example of this admitted fact. He has never served any party or any principle unless that party or principle afforded him liberal reward for his own ambitions. He has flopped around through all the parties. Now as before he is insisting that he is the

"big noise" around which the common people are willing to rally and he has the temerity to actually demand that his Democratic associates on the State ticket retire from the field and give their places to other disgruntled politicians who refuse to go along unless they are placed to win.

William Flinn, first lieutenant in the Roosevelt army is another example. He was entirely content with the regular Republican party so long as he was the favored and only municipal contractor in Pittsburgh. With absolute control of the city contracts he was enabled to gather, in a remarkably short time, the neat sum of probably $16,000,000. When he was finally shaken loose from that enormous graft he bolted and while he is endeavoring in every possible way to wreck the party which fattened him he still insists upon holding on to the control of the Republicans.

Since Flinn was crowded away from the municipal contracting trough in Pittsburgh he has in turn gone into religion, the Keystone party, the Democratic party and the bull-moose party. At the same time he is pretending to manage the affairs of the regular Republican party.

In all decency these self-seeking patriots like Flinn and Berry should be given exactly what's coming to them. If they refuse to make room for others they should be forced to stand aside. They have used the Republican and Democratic parties for themselves far too long.

A DEMONSTRATION.

If there were any doubt in the minds of the promoters that the proposed street car line from Charleroi to Bentleyville would be a paying proposition, the big traffic of the motor truck service recently installed between these two points should be convincing. This service, which has but one auto truck, makes three round trips a day, and the vehicle is crowded on nearly every trip.

This is only an indication of what traffic there would be if street car service were installed between the two points. Operations are working in that direction, and it is hoped that the practical demonstration of the need of this service will hasten the project along toward completion. With this new outlet and inlet Charleroi's business and trade would be materially increased.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

A man doesn't need to think to give advice.

An electric fan that makes more noise than a young boiler factory is next thing to a nuisance.

The exchange newspaper is bound to be appreciated when the home editorial writer is on his vacation.

It's too bad, seeing they are trying so hard that Germany and England can't get something real to scrap about.

What has become of the old-fashioned farmer who used to bring in a treat occasionally to the fellows of the fourth estate?

Pittsburg people don't need to go abroad to do mountain climbing while they are removing the hump; they can do it at home.

"I forget," or "I don't remember" may be popular phrases before juries but it is to be hoped they do not come into general use in coronial cases.

There have been numerous appeals to reason during the last few weeks, and the result is that most voters are returning to their original parties.

Some people that won't pay their debts are always among the first to hasten to donate to charity when ly so doing they get favorable publicity.

Notably the Indians are tale tellers, when it comes to age, but the story about the Indian woman that lived 153 years, recently dying, is about the best yet.

The professions of law and medicine are overcrowded because they are generally regarded as good positions. After while editors will be more in demand and then everybody will try to grab editorial jobs.

We read in an exchange under date of August 9 that the Indiana Progressives are going to hold a convention in Indianapolis August 1. They must have a decidedly good opinion of themselves, to think themselves so progressive they can move back the calendar.

PICKED UP IN PASSING JOHN MORRISON

DIES AT CLARKSBURG

It is a good thing to keep the will trained, too, so that it may always be strong enough to resist the emergencies of temptation. A Pittsburg farther, says the Pittsburg Sun, states that he sees to it that his children exercise their wills at regular intervals, as well as their bodies and if carried out as he explains it, the plan might be found of value to the members of any household, and for adults as well as children.

"My little daughter," the man says, "is very fond of candy, as is usual with all children. I tell her that this taste is all right, perfectly natural, and that eating candy will not injure her unless she falls into the habit of munching at it all the time. To prevent this, she should decide not to eat any candy for a certain period and even after that to limit the amount so much a day or a week. I have known her to refrain from eating a single bit of candy for a month. It's a good thing for her. It exercises her will in the power of resistance against things her judgment questions.

"My son would drink too much coffee if he didn't watch himself. So just to show himself what he can do with himself when he wants to, he will drink absolutely no coffee for a certain period."

Fred and Jack, little brothers, hitched their goat to a new wagon, their father bought them, says Norman E. Mack's National Monthly. Fred, the youngest, got in to drive off, but "Billie" stubbornly refused to budge; whereupon Jack stepped up and gave the goat's tail a vicious twist or two, at which "Billie" made off at a lively gait, to the great pleasure of Fred, the driver. When the goat got started, he did not slow down, but went faster and faster to the great dismay of Fred, who, much frightened, cried to his brother: "Jack, Jack, untwist it, untwist it."

Does any one wonder the power of coal as a worker? A man was set to work to pump as hard as he could all day, and at the end of ten hours it was found that he had done just as much work as a little less than two ounces of coal could do. Taking all the energy put forth by a hardworking man during one whole year, the same amount of force would be furnished by thirty-six pounds of good coal, or say forty pounds of average coal. Of course even in our best engines the greater part of the working energy of coal is wasted. But even if only one tenth is turned to account one and a half hundredweight of coal is equal to a man working 200 days of the year. A horse can do as much work as ten men, but one and a quarter pounds of coal have as much working force as a horse expends in one day. So that a ton of coal, if we could use all its force would do as much work as six horses working for a whole year.

Curiosities of Sound.

There are mysteries in the transmission of sound that have not yet been fathomed. For example, the guns of the Orion are said to have been heard ninety-seven miles away, though inaudible to those much nearer, and it is on record that the reverberation of the battle of Waterloo reached many places in Kent, though General Colville and his detachment heard nothing of it a dozen miles away. Whistles, boots, sirens and noises of all kinds have been tested by the Trinity House in order to find a noise which will be infallibly heard for a certain distance in vain. They may all be heard for a dozen miles and be inaudible at half a mile. Many of the disasters about our coasts are doubtless due to that mysterious "soundless zone" in which the human ear cannot catch the warning. But no one has yet discovered the reason of that dead spot or prophesied its varying locality. — Westminster Gazette

Wanted to Be Exclusive.

P. V. Daniel, "Virginia gentleman," was one of the general officers of the old Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad.

Even in those days before the war the road was prosperous, and at a meeting of the board of directors some progressive introduced a resolution to reduce the rate for passengers from 17 to 11 cents a mile.

Instantly Daniel, who was chairman, declared the motion "out of order."

"Why?" protested Daniel. "If you do that you will have every rascal and booby in the state of Virginia riding on our road. That's why!"

The resolution was unanimously tabled.—Everybody's

Madrid's Throne Room.

The throne room of the royal palace at Madrid is one of the most magnificent in the world. Decorated in red and gold, it contains rock crystal chandeliers, colossal looking glasses of the finest quality, marble tables and priceless porphyry. The ceiling is painted by Tiepolo with the "Majesty of Spain," in illustration of the virtue of the kings and the manliness of the people, who are represented in the different costumes of the provinces. Here the sovereigns of Spain receive on grand occasions when alive and when dead are laid out in state.

John Morrison, 26 years old, who died at Clarksburg, West Virginia, August 6, was buried Saturday at Roscoe, the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrison. The funeral was in charge of the Charleroi Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. The deceased was a member of the order at Clarksburg, and members of that lodge accompanied the remains to Roscoe. In addition to the Eagles members of the Loyal Order of Moose and the Clan Gordon attended the funeral in a body. Besides his father and mother Mr. Morrison is survived by his wife and three brothers and three sisters. These are James Morrison of Monessen, William Morrison of Toronto, Canada, Mrs. George Jenkins of Toronto, Ohio, and Misses Agnes and Jeanette Morrison at home. Many handsome floral tributes were given by the orders and friends in attendance at the funeral. Mr. Morrison and his parents formerly lived in Charleroi.

IS REMOVED TO HOSPITAL

Miss Grace O'Donnell, who has been suffering for some time from tuberculosis, was taken this morning to Hickory Hospital at Fenelon, a point near Butler. This is a branch of St. Francis Hospital at Pittsburg, and is maintained at this point for patients for whom a change is desirable. Miss O'Donnell has been sick for a long time and her friends believe this change will be for the better. She left on the 10:30 train this morning, accompanied by Miss Teresa Kirstein.

An Underground Canal.

Between Worsley and St. Helens, in the north of England, is the most remarkable canal in the world. It is underground, from end to end, and is sixteen miles long. In Lancashire the coal mines are very extensive, half the country being underground, and many years ago the Duke of Bridgewater's managers thought they could save money by transporting the coal underground instead of on the surface. The canal was constructed and the mines connected and destined at the same time, ordinary canal boats are used, but the power is furnished by men on the roof of the tunnel which are cross pieces, and the men do the work of propulsion by lying on their backs on the coal and pushing with their feet against the crossbars on the roof. ## Thrice Wrecked in One Week.

In 1882, as the schooner Aviator was driving east across the Banks in a heavy storm she met her end from a low lying bar. Of her crew of ten only two escaped, having cut clear the launch and launched it safely. Next day they were picked up by the fishing schooner Energy, making for the Newfoundland coast. Driven south by bad weather, the schooner, two days later, the steamer Lillidale, with a load of cotton. She agreed to take the eastward, and in doing so the Energy sank her, but saved her crew. Thirty-six hours later the Lillidale herself went ashore near Cape Race and became a total loss. Thus the two men were wrecked three times in one week—being, steamboat and road.

The Servant Swineherd.

In any Servian village there is only one swineherd, and he leads all the pigs of the community. In the morning he goes through the streets blowing his horn, and the pigs come out of their own accord and fall in behind him and follow him to the pasture. At night he brings them home, and they disperse to their sties in the same orderly way as they pass the houses to which they belong. They require no attention and no slugging out.

Domestic Science.

She Here is a woman who says the only girl to marry is one who has been taught domestic science. He—What sort of education is that? She—It's the sort that turns a kitchen into an experimental laboratory and makes the garbage can a receptacle of waste tissues and discarded calories. — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"You and Bilgewater were boys together?" "Yes. There was a time when we were satisfied with a cream puff between us, but now he wants a base ball franchise and I long for a private yacht." Birmingham Age-Herald.

Impatience.

In all evils which admit a remedy impatience should be avoided because it wastes that time and attention in complaints which if properly applied might remove the cause.—Johnson.

Helpfulness.

To be a strong hand in the dark to another in the time of need, to be a cup of strength to a human soul in a crisis of weakness, is to know the glory of life.—Hugh Black.

Origin of the New York Yacht Club.

Shortly after the American Civil War Stevens purchased Hoboken, which was then an island of swamps and rocky hills, and established the family on Castle point, a beautiful promontory overlooking the Hudson and New York city. John C. Stevens, the father of American yachting, was born there in 1785. There were no ferries in those days, and the Stevens boys of necessity became expert boatmen. At fourteen John C. owned a sailboat of twenty feet length named Diver. As the years passed by he had the schooner Glimcrack built for him by William Capen in Hoboken. This boat is one of the most historic craft of American yachting, since she was the cradle of the New York Yacht club, the organization being accomplished in her cabin July 20, 1844, the year in which so many of the world's greatest achievements occurred. On that day John C. Stevens called a meeting of yachtsmen, which assembled aboard the Glimcrack, anchored off the Battery, New York, and here the constitution of the New York Yacht club was drawn up.— Strand Magazine

Anagrams.

The anagram, or transposition of the letters in words or sentences was much in vogue in Greece in the olden times. The Chaldeans, or Jewish doctors, thought that the anagram always pointed out a man's destiny, and if his name written backward or transposed in any way spelled a word with meaning they firmly believed it a revelation. The doctors of James I. of England proved his right to the British monarchy as the descendant of the mythical King Arthur from his name, Charles James Stuart, which becomes "James Arthur's saint." The best anagrams are those which have in the new order of letters some significance appropriate to that from which they are formed. When Plato asked "Quid est veritas?" (What is truth?) he probably had no idea that his question answered itself, but it did. "The transposition made it, 'Est veritas aliter'." (It is the man who is here). Anagrams were written as early as 250 B. C., and their name comes from the Greek words ana backward and gramma writing.

Duels Over Trivialities.

The trivialities which led to duels in the old days were almost infinite. John Ashton mentions some of them in noting that by William IV.'s time public opinion was setting against the practice. "Colonel" Montgomery was shot in a duel about a dog, Captain Ramsay in one about a servant, Mr. Featherston in one about a recruit, Stornes father in one about a goose and some one else about an acre of meadows instead of meadows. One officer was challenged for merely asking his opponent to have another glass, and another was compelled to fight about a pinch of snuff, while General Barry was challenged by a Captain Smith for drinking a glass of wine with him at dinner on a steamboat, in though the general had pleaded in excuse that wine invariably made him sick at sea. — London Chronicle.

Solving the Old Problem.

When Sir Thomas Lipton was a school boy in Scotland he dropped into a church one Sunday morning and was put by himself in a pew directly in front of the minister, who preached a sermon on the text "Am I my brother's keeper?"

The person, who was unusually eloquent, talked on this theme for about forty minutes and finally worked up to the climax of his remarks. He kept his gaze fixed directly on the little Lipton, who began to fidget and look very self-conscious. At last, after an overwhelming outpouring of long words the minister, his eyes blazing, made a quick gesture and shouted at the boy: "Am I my brother's keeper?" Lipton could stand the strain no longer, and replied in a meek voice: "No, sir." — Popular Magazine.

Power of Words.

She—Ah, what power lies in a word! He—Yes, one word from a woman once blighted my whole life. She—Yes? Was it "No?" He—No. It was "Yes." — Exchange.

GOLD ON A BIG SHIP

How Bullion In Transit Is Guarded on an Ocean Liner.

LOCKED IN ROOMS OF STEEL.

After the treasure is safely stowed away, the ship is Little Danger of its being looted during the voyage.

The treasure is stowed away in the hold of the ship, and is guarded by the crew. The treasure is stowed away in the hold of the ship, and is guarded by the crew.

Taking the case of one liner sailing under the British flag, we find that it has two strong rooms, the smaller of the two being in close proximity to the captain's office. This one strong room has no doubt stowed gold enough to pay the cost of the liner many times over. The walls, the roof and the ceiling are lined with two inch steel plate, and the room contains nothing in the way of fixtures save shelving. The locks, which are of the double variety, are rendered still more secure by steel hasps covering the key holes, and they are provided with massive padlocks. The strong rooms, being in the most frequented portion of the vessel, where persons are passing them at all hours of the day and night, thus receive the best protection, after all. There are two sets of keys, one of which is retained by the agent in charge of the transportation of gold and the other of which remains with the captain.

Tuberculosis Medicine Saved This Man's Life

Pneumonia is a serious disease, and often lays the foundation for chronic lung troubles—sometimes tuberculosis results. After pneumonia, or any serious or stubborn cold, it is wise to take Eckman's Alternative.

Don't wait to find out whether the trouble is getting worse, but take Eckman's Alternative in time and avoid the dangers of disease. Read of the recovery in this case—

336 No. 41st St., Philadelphia, Pa. "Gentlemen, I am getting along very nicely and gaining strength all the time. I now weigh 154 pounds, a gain since September 16, 1907, of 28 pounds more than when I first started to take the Alternative. I wish I had known of it two years ago as it would have saved me much misery and distress."

"I was suffering from a very serious abscessed lung, which followed a bad attack of pneumonia. My physician and a specialist declared my case hopeless. I cannot but be very thankful to you and the Almighty God for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me."

"Since writing the above statement I wish to say that I have fully recovered my health, having been cured for over three years."

(Signed) ADAMANT. TROST, REILLY. Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH.

Descendants of the Germans Who Came to This Country in 1682.

To most Americans the word "Dutch" means German. The Dutch are Hollanders from the Netherlands. New York was first settled by the Dutch from Holland.

The first Germans came to this country in 1682 and settled at Germantown. It is estimated that the Germans and their descendants in Pennsylvania numbered 100,000 at the time of our revolution. The descendants of these are called the Pennsylvania Germans or Dutch. The word Dutch is a corruption of Deutsch, meaning German.

The early Germans were followers of Mennonite, known as Mennonites. They were persecuted in their own country on account of their religious belief and when Penn offered religious liberty it was gladly accepted by them. The persecuted Germans came largely from the Rhenish palatinate, Wurtemberg, from the lower Rhine, Alsace, Saxony and Switzerland.

The southeastern counties of Pennsylvania, such as Lancaster, York, Berks and Lebanon, were chosen for settlement. These settlers spoke a variety of dialects, and, owing to segregation in religious communities, they clung to their mother tongue. English words have since crept in and as a result we have the somewhat picturesque language known as the "Pennsylvania Dutch." Their religious belief and their common interest have preserved this class with singular purity.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Fate of Alcibiades.

The brilliant, witty and dissolute Alcibiades had one of the most extensive experiences in exile that ever fell to the lot of man. While in command of the Sicilian army he was recalled to stand trial for the destruction of the herds of Heracles, an outrage that had taken place just before his departure. Knowing that his death had been determined on, he escaped to Sparta, where, by adopting the manners of the people, in strange contrast to his former style of luxury, he became immensely popular. He engaged in military operations against the Athenians and succeeded so well as to excite the envy of the Spartan leaders, who expelled him, whereupon he went to Persia and lived there with a magnificence that astonished the Persians themselves. He was recalled to Athens with the same capriciousness that marked his ostracism and was appointed commander in chief of all the Athenian forces; but, failing to win an important expedition, he was again sent into exile and was finally assassinated in Persia.

A Fashion That Failed.

Charles II. attempted to put down the mutability of fashion—in masculine costume. On Oct. 6, 1666, as Pepys records, the king declared in council "his resolution of setting a fashion in clothes, which he will never alter. It will be a vest. I know not just how, but it is to teach the nobility thrift and will do good." Six days later Pepys sees the Duke of York try on the new "vest," which is again declared to be like the laws of the Medes and Persians. It was "a long cassock close to the body, of black cloth and plaited with white silk under it, and a coat over it, and the legs cuffed with black ribbon like a pizen's leg." But Louis XIV. maliciously dressed all his footmen in this costume, and so did French noblemen, with the result that the English court very soon discarded the "unfashionable" costume.

OUTWITTED A LION.

Clever Tactics of a Plucky and Ingenious African.

The little bushman of South Africa is not only small in size, but feeble in mind. Yet there is no one on an out-counter between a bushman and a lion who shows the man as cool in danger and better in resource.

This bushman, who is a long way from his home, was met by a lion. The animal, assured that he had his victim completely in his power, began to sport and dally with him with a feline jest by which the poor little bushman failed to appreciate. The lion would appear at a point in the road and leap back again into the jungle, to reappear a little farther on.

The bushman, however, did not lose his presence of mind and presently, upon a device whereby he might outwit his foe, this plan was suggested by the lion's own conduct.

Aware that the beast was ahead of him, the bushman dodged to the right, and, feeling pretty sure of the lion's whereabouts, resorted to the course of quietly watching his movements.

When the lion discovered that the man had suddenly disappeared from the path he was a good deal perplexed. He roared with mortification. Then he espied the bushman peeping at him over the grass.

The bushman at once changed his position, while the lion stood irresolute in the path, following with his eye the shifting black man. In another moment the little man rustled the reeds, vanished and showed himself at another point.

The great brute was first confused and then alarmed. It evidently began to dawn upon him that he had mistaken the position of matters and that he was the hunted party.

The bushman, who clearly recognized the situation, did not pause to permit the lion to recover his startled wits. He began to steal gradually toward the foe, who now, in a complete state of doubt and fear, turned tail and decamped, leaving the plucky and ingenious little bushman master of the situation.—Harper's.

GREAT HORN SPOONS.

The Ones That Are Made by Natives of Southern Alaska.

Horns of the Rocky mountain sheep, the buffalo and the mountain goat are made into dishes, ladles and spoons. Some of these are carved, while others are both carved and inlaid with shell. The decoration is sometimes geometric, but often a conventional representation of animal forms. This is especially true of the spoons of the Indians on the coast of northern British Columbia and southern Alaska. A few of these spoons are so large, so wonderfully artistic and so well made from the horn of the rare Rocky mountain sheep that even a moderately good one may appropriately be called a "great horn spoon." These are of a rich, golden yellow color. By far the greater number of horn spoons in this same region are made of the horn of the mountain goat, and these are black. A few have black handles of goat horn and golden bowls of sheep horn. All these handles are usually carved to represent traditional or mythical men, animals or monsters belonging to the lore of the individual family. Just as among our people silver spoons bear the family monogram, Detroit Free Press.

Church Tower Belfries.

Probably you have noticed that the openings in the belfry of a church are usually filled with a number of slanting boards, sometimes covered with lead. These are improperly called louvers, and many persons imagine that they are so arranged as to keep out the rain. The right name for these slats is abatsons, a word that means to throw down.

Their use is not to keep out the rain, because the wet does not hurt the bells at all and rain can beat in through the openings very easily. They are designed to turn the sound of the bell downward, so that persons on the ground can hear them better. In the middle ages some of these abatsons were beautifully carved and decorated.—New York Press.

The Game of Lacrosse.

The game known as lacrosse was originally played by the Canadian Indians, and from them adopted successively by the French and English settlers, and by them introduced to the United States. The object of the game is to drive the ball through goals situated at each end of the field. The players are usually twelve on a side. In 1897 the Lacrosse Association of Canada was formed, and an Indian team visited Great Britain, creating great excitement. The game is one of real importance in the English sporting world.

A DYED BIRD.

It Probably Changed the History of the Whole Human Race.

The most striking case in history of the importance of a dye is furnished by the story of Musa, the leader of the Moslems, who won from Christianity in three or four half years of campaigns which took the soldiers of the cross twenty generations to win back. He had a red beard. This was a trifle.

Musa, then, a very great general, was a very vain man, and he dyed his beard black. This was another trifle. One of his captains chafed him on the subject, and Musa forthwith had him stripped and scourged. For this, at the very height of his conquering career, Musa was recalled by the caliph and disgraced. This made it impossible for him to command the Moslem army at the battle of Tours, on the issue of which, as all historians agree, the destinies of Europe and perhaps of the whole human race depended.

It is almost certain that if the genius of Musa had replaced the incompetence of the half dozen tribal leaders whose dissensions made victory impossible the forces of Islam would have joined hands from the west to the east and inclosed Europe in their grasp.

Caustic by Reflection.

It is found that rays only come to a definite focus in the point when the angular aperture of the mirror does not exceed 8 or 10 degrees. With a larger aperture the rays reflected near the edge cut the axis of the mirror at a point nearer its surface than those from points immediately around the center. This causes so and the curve of the mirror being continuous, a corresponding curve of successive focal points is formed in space and can be rendered visible by the rays falling on a reflecting surface, such as a sheet of white paper or a tablecloth. The napkin ring is a cylinder and possesses the properties of the spherical mirror along one diameter. The rays falling upon portions more remote from the center line are brought to a different focus from those falling nearer the center, and this produces the peculiar heart shaped reflection. These figures are known as "caustics by reflection" and can be well observed by allowing the light of a candle to fall on the inside of a cup or tumbler partly filled with milk.

He Wouldn't Advertise

Breathes there a man, with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:

"My trade of late is getting bad,

I'll try another eight-inch ad."

If such there be, go mark him well;

For him no bank account shall swell,

No angels watch the golden stair

To welcome home the millionaire

The man who never asks for trade

By local line or ad. displayed.

Cares more for rest than worldly gain,

And patronage but gives him pain,

Tread lightly friends; let no rude sound

Disturb his solitude profound,

Here let him live in calm repose,

Unsought except by men he owes

And when he dies, go plant him deep,

That naught may break his dreamless sleep;

Where no rude clamor may dispel

The quiet that he loved so well.

And when the world may know its loss,

Place on his grave a wreath of moss,

And on the stone above, "Here lies

A chump who wouldn't advertise."

Advertise and the world is with you!

Don't and you'll be alone.

For the world today will never pay

A Cent to the Great Unknown.

Mark Twain's Profanity.

William Dean Howells read the "Tom Sawyer" manuscript and thought it the best story he had ever read. Clemens consulted him regarding the use of a certain vigorous expletive. Howells advised that it be cut out. Clemens wrote back:

Mrs. Clemens received the mail this morning, and the next minute she lit into the study with danger in her eyes and this demand on her tongue: "Where is the profanity Mr. Howells speaks of?" Then I had to miserably confess that I had left it out when reading the MS. to her. Nothing but almost inspired lying got me out of this scrape with my scalp. ## HUSSEY-BINNS TEAM DEFEATS MONESSEN STARS

There was nothing to it but Charleroi after the first inning in a ball game played between the Hussey Binns team and the Monessen Church League All Stars on the local field Saturday afternoon. In the first the visitors aroused their own hopes and put the Charleroi folks on their mettle by scoring three of their runs. Their lead was short lived. After the first the local boys scored in nearly every inning. Osborne pitched fine ball, allowing but four hits, and he was given gilt-edged support.

After he came to realization that his train had left he decided to head it off at Homestead and putting on speed he directed the R. H. Mail Carrier and Ruralists at West Brownsville Said to Have Come to Blows

An alleged attack on a rural mail carrier from West Brownsville by a patron of the route promises to reach the county courts. Last week while R. R. McKinley was going over his route he alleges that I. C. Hormell attacked him after an argument over the delivery of a paper and as a result McKinley was knocked down, lost a tooth and is now suffering from a badly swollen jaw.

The dispute arose over a paper that had been delivered or rather was not delivered during the high water. McKinley alleged that he received no papers during the high water period in time to deliver over his route. It is reported that McKinley had said Hormell was a liar but McKinley denied the allegation and further said if Hormell insisted that he had said such a thing he was a liar.

At this time it is alleged that Hormell struck the representative of the government.

FILE PETITION FOR MORTGAGE

The executors of the estate of S. G. Walker, late of West Pike township, have filed a petition with the court for the leave to mortgage three tracts of land in Fallowfield township in which M. Walker holds the individual half interest. The amount of the mortgage to be placed on the real estate is $62,000 or less if that amount is not required to liquidate certain claims against Mr. Walker's estate.

The petitioners in asking for the privilege of placing the mortgage set forth that the personal estate of Mr. Walker's amounted to $106,477.51 and that from this amount debts to the amount of $39,722.60 have been paid. Besides his personal estate of over $100,000 he owned a 350 acre tract on which he lived and a half interest in three tracts containing 194, 215 and 194 acres respectively, besides several large orange groves in Florida. The executors asking for the mortgage are S. E. Taylor, J. W. Walker and L. G. Walker.

MOUTHPIECES ARE GERMLESS

So Telephone Trade Paper Affirms After Thorough Examination is Made

Nearly two years ago the Postmaster General at London became interested in the reports that tuberculosis could be communicated by the use of the telephones, particularly those for public use. In order to confirm or refute such a statement he arranged that a number of them be selected from various places and that they be delivered to a well known bacteriologist for examination. Special care was taken to obtain instruments that were without the possibility of having been disinfected or even cleansed and the same care was taken to see that they reached the testing laboratory in the exact condition in which they were removed from public use. They were taken from postoffices, railway depots, meat markets and other places frequented by the public.

The laboratory used is that of St. George's Hospital Medical School, Hyde Park Corner, S. W., and the work was done in the Clinical Investigation Department under the supervision of Dr. H. R. D. Spitta, Superintendent.

Washings were made of the mouthpieces and the whole contents were then injected in guinea pigs. The animals were kept in separate cages under supervision and killed a few weeks later. Exhaustive examinations proved that they were absolutely healthy. From the twenty-one telephones used in the test no tubercle bacilli were found.

From a subsequent series of tests ending February 16 of the present year, and made with instruments used in the tests ending February 16 of the present year, and made with instruments used wholly by consumptive patients, the same results were obtained. The tests were made at the Frimley Sanatorium with instruments installed at the bedside of phthisical patients undergoing treatment. They were in use by the patients at regular periods for a number of days just prior to the test.

Tests were also made by the American Government, and like proofs resulted. From all these exhaustive and impartial experiments it has been proved beyond question that not the slightest danger of communication of the disease is possible through the medium of the telephone.—Telephone News—August 1, 1912.

WILL QUIT POSITION HERE LAST OF AUGUST

Prof. J. G. Pentz Pre-
pares to Begin State
School Work

TEN MEMBERS ON STAFF

Will Work With State Board
of Education; Harrisburg
to be Residence

In order to take up his new duties as State High School inspector on September 1, Prof. James G. Pentz, superintendent of the Charleroi schools, will relinquish his present position the last day of this month. He has just received official notification from Dr. Nathan C. Schaffer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, of his appointment to the State position and in turn has notified the Charleroi school board of his intention to leave on August 31.

Prof. Pentz and his family will probably move to Harrisburg. He will work directly under the department of Public Instruction, which consists of the superintendent, Dr. Nathan C. Schaffer; two deputies, Reed B. Tetrick of Jefferson county and Archibald D. Glenn of Armstrong county; four High School inspectors, C. D. Koch, of Center county, Thomas S. March of Greensburg, Westmoreland county; W. M. Denison of Bradford county and Prof. Pentz; and also three experts in agricultural, industrial and drawing education. There are ten members of the staff and a number of clerks and stenographers.

Not only will his new position give Prof. Pentz a broader field in which to work, and give him a place of influence in the State, but it will also reimburse him better than did the superintendency of the Charleroi schools. He has been the head of the Charleroi schools for three years. Elected to serve two years of the unexpired term of Prof. W. D. Wright, he proved so efficient that he was elected to a new term, on which he has served one year.

During his incumbency here Prof. Pentz has effected a number of improvements in the schools. The High School enrollment has been increased from less than 50 to about 180, and the High School course has been changed from three to four years. A number of innovations have been tried, and in fact many of the new school plans now being tried successfully in Pittsburgh by Superintendent Heister had their first test here. The average who enter and pass through the eighth grade has been increased considerably and is now one in every four. Prof. Pentz worked hard to get the new school building, which is to be built this fall under way.

The one unpleasant feature of his new position, Prof. Pentz states, is the fact that he will have to leave Charleroi. He has become a leader in civic affairs, and his departure will be sincerely regretted.

Miss Nell Dagnall and Albert McFeeley returned home last evening from Butler, Pa., after visiting the former's sister, Mrs. W. J. Lester.

Of the new teachers elected in the California Normal faculty one has notified Principal Heister of her acceptance. Miss Edith Bowman, of Knox, who was named as assistant teacher of German and instructor in physical culture has notified the principal that she will accept the position. Miss Bowman comes well recommended and is qualified to coach the basketball team and the track team and also takes charge of the physical culture department for women.

PUTTING IN NEW FILTERS

Charleroi Water Company Increasing Capacity of Plant

WILL HAVE NEW PUMPS

Four new filters are being installed at the filtration plant of the Charleroi Water company on McKean avenue at the south end of town. Two new pumps and a new boiler are to be installed shortly also, the company increasing the capacity of the plant throughout to enable them to care properly for the additional trade which will be the result when Monessen and Donora mains are connected up.

When completed there will be ten filters in place. The new filters will have a capacity of 5,000,000 gallons of water a day, or about 2,000,000 gallons above what will be demanded by Donora and Monessen.

Of the new pumps to be installed one will be a low service and one a high service. The low service pumps will have a capacity of 4,000,000 gallons of water a day and the high service of 5,000,000 gallons. A new siding has been constructed at the water plant branching off from the railroad enabling the water company to receive its new material at the point where it is to be installed.

Charleroi will not only be the central distributing point of water for the three towns, but will also contain the general office for the three towns. Collections will be made in Monessen and Donora by real estate men.

NEW YARDS TO BE BUILT AT FAYETTE

Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Getting Ready to Institute Service Over New Line
to Connellsville

Day and night men are engaged on the work of constructing the new Pittsburgh and Lake Erie yards at Fayette City, along the route that goes through there to Connellsville, where connection is made with the Western Maryland trains to and from Cumberland, Md. The first freight train recently passed over the route. Passenger service will be instituted this fall.

At the new yards, a new track is being constructed to accommodate northbound trains from the foot of Fording street, Fayette City, which necessitates the building of a wooden trestle over Johnson's run. Northbound trains will make a detour of the new yard, the track bearing in another direction. The southbound track will hug the river bank. Between the two tracks there will be a number of tracks for switching.

It is understood that a new passenger station will be built at Fayette City of brick to take the place of the old wooden structure. Incidental with the opening up of their new tracks to Connellsville the P. & L. E. has installed telephone service for train dispatching.

MANY HORSES ON SCENE

The final arrangements for the Sandy Plains fair Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week have been completed. More than a score of men have been at work during the past week preparing the grounds and now everything has been placed in excellent condition. The track was never in better shape and all that is necessary now for fast racing is good weather.

More than $2,200 has been offered in the speed department and this alone is attracting much attention among the horsemen and followers of the sport. The first class racing and the two aeroplane flights each day of the fair are expected to draw large crowds each day.

It is understood that the birdmen who fly the two days of the fair will plane to Brownsville, Waynesburg and Washington.

VENTILATION IS IMPROVED

County's Own Plant Provides Better Air and
Better Conditions

Controller John Moffitt is of the opinion that the ventilation of the county buildings will be much better since the lighting plant has been started. For the past few years complaints have been made about the poor ventilation of the jail. The workmen putting the county plant into operation have explained the cause stating that all of the air pulled from the jail and court house was returned as it had no outlet.

These men stated that when the county plant was not in operation the large stack which is the outlet for the foul air and the warm or impure air from the jail could not find an outlet through the big stacks as the cold air was much heavier than the warm air. When court opens next week the machinery will be tested out to find if the ventilation in the county buildings will not be better.

CONTRACTORS START WORK AT BENTLEYVILLE

Contractor Frank Underwood of Monongahela begins work this week on the erection of a three story brick building for the Bentleyville Improvement Co., of Bentleyville. The ground floor of the new building will be used for store rooms while the two upper stories will be used as a theatre and will be modern in every respect.

FARM EXPERT COMING HERE

Arrangements Made for Ag-
riculturist-Meeting Called
for This Month

CONTRACT IS DELAYED

An interesting meeting of those working to have a government farm expert located in Washington county was held in the Board of Trade rooms Saturday afternoon, says the Washington Observer. Although it was expected to make final arrangements there, has been a delay in securing the contract from the agricultural department of United States, at Washington, D. C., and until this arrives the committee and those working for the movement can do nothing further.

It is thought the document from the government will arrive within a short time and a meeting has been called for Saturday, August 24. The farm expert is practically assured, however.

The Agricultural Bureau of the trade board has already guaranteed an annual sum of $1,200 with a strong probability of being able to raise $1,500. The government is to set aside an amount equal to that raised here and the Crop Improvement Association of Chicago has notified Secretary Dudderar of the Board of Trade, that as soon as the local scheme is assured it will turn over $1,000 annually for the same purpose. This means that Washington county will have between $3,500 and $4,000 to devote to up-to-date and modern agricultural exploitation.

The final details are now up to the Agricultural Department of the United States government, but it is assured that the expert will be located here. It is understood that a man has already been selected and endorsed by the Pennsylvania State department and that the details of the project will be closed up just as soon as the national congressional appropriation bill is signed by the president and becomes a law.

CHANGES MADE IN AVERAGES

A somewhat different complexion has been put on Church League affairs by a team average compiled by Secretary Paul Ryland. The average includes all the games played to date.

The executive committee has reached decisions. The first three teams are unchanged by the correct average. The Episcopals come into fourth place and the Christians are in fifth. The Methodists come into fifth and are tied for sixth position. The Lutherans bring up the rear. Following are the authenticated averages, Tony came into his good fortune through a kindness to his aunt, Susanna Kardos. When she was in bad straits at one time he drew his savings out of a Washington bank and forwarded the money. Kardos was convicted of embezzlement in connection with the payment of policies.

THIEVES BAFFLED AT WORK

Small Penknife Not
Enough to Cut Big
Hole in Door

CAR IS BROKEN OPEN

Would-be robbers found cutting through a heavy door with a small penknife a bigger job than they thought and as a result the Adams Express company's office here escaped being burglarized Saturday night. Some time during the night a start was made to cut through the door opening on the railroad side of the office in the Charleroi Hotel building. After making an opening about two inches in diameter the burglars evidently gave up in disgust, and threw the knife with which they were working away. Fear of being discovered might have lent speed to their feet in getting away.

On Saturday night it is said a car was broken open near the store of Monack Bros. store and a quantity of stuff taken understood to have been consigned to the Monack wholesale house. It is stated Monack Bros. lost through a robbery several days ago.

Four Arrests Made.

Four arrests were made by the police Saturday, all on the usual charge of drunkenness. One of the persons arrested was a man said to have suffered from an attack of delirium tremens. It was necessary to get the doctor twice for him. He was doctored up and told to leave town. This morning he turned up again, still fit property for the police to care for.

ROUTE BEING SURVEYED

West Penn Interests at Back
of Movement; Have Right
of Way to Monongahela

Surveyors and rights-of-way men will be at work in a few days it is understood on a subsidiary of the West Penn Electric company from the Monongahela valley to Washington. Last week the final obstacle in the way of beginning active work was removed when a charter was granted at Harrisburg to the Washington Traction company and the Ellsworth and Washington Street railway company, mention of which was made in Saturday's issue of the Mail.

The charters recite that the former is to build 11 1/2 miles of track in Washington and has a capital of $10,000, and that the Ellsworth line is to construct 14 miles of track, from Washington to Ellsworth, and has a capital of $85,000. The incorporators in each instance are: J. W. Warrick, Charles S. Caldwell, I. E. Paul, L. S. Vowell and F. B. McKinley all of Washington. The companies are taking out the charters for the West Penn Traction company, which will build the line from the county seat to Monongahela.

An ordinance was passed by the Washington council granting a franchise to the Washington-Traction company over the borough streets, on June 17. September 17 is the last date on which this franchise may be accepted. It is understood that with the charters granted the company will accept the ordinance and hasten its work. The Pittsburgh Railways company objected to the charters being granted.

According to present plans the route through to Washington will be almost direct from Ellsworth and Bentleyville. An affiliated company has been working up the local end, and engineers have been surveying a line from Monongahela to Ellsworth. These engineers are to be moved to the section between Ellsworth and Washington. Most of the rights of way have been taken up it is understood between Monongahela and Ellsworth.

Charleroi will benefit in the event the proposed line is built. The West Side Street Railways company is building a line through Bentleyville and Ellsworth at the present time, and will eventually connect it up with the Charleroi line. This will give direct connection with the county seat.

MOTOR CRUSHES MINER TO DEATH

August Gall, a miner aged 36 years was killed in the Crescent mine at California Saturday. He was working in a room by himself when a motor pushed a trip of cars in on him. He was crushed to death. Gall's home was at Red Hill near California where he and his wife and two children reside. Coroner James Heffran will hold an inquest this evening.

GOLD ON A BIG SHIP

How Common in Transit to Guarded on an Ocean Liner.

LOCKED IN ROOMS OF STEEL

After the Treasure Is Safely Stowed
Away From Little Danger of Its Being Taken During the Voyage,
Shipping and Checking the Keys.

The natural assumption would be that the safekeeping of the treasure is the most important thing in the voyage. The various companies are constantly sending out notices by the big ocean liners there would be required the vigilance of many men. This, however, is not generally the case. Since the gold is stored away in the rooms set apart for that purpose on the big ships and the vessel is well out at sea, no armed guards are necessary.

Taking a specific case of one liner sailing under the British flag, we find that it has two strong rooms, the location of the treasure being in the hands of the captain's office. This one compartment has no doubt sheltered gold enough to pay the cost of the liner many times over. The walls, the floor and the ceiling are lined with two inch steel plate, and the room contains nothing in the way of fixtures save shelving. The locks, which are of the double variety, are rendered still more secure by steel bands covering the key holes, and there are provided with massive padlocks. The strong rooms, being in the most frequented portion of the vessel, where persons are passing them at all hours of the day and night, thus receive the best protection, after all. There are two sets of keys, one of which is not held by the agent in charge of the consignment of gold and the other of which remains with the captain.

Tuberculosis Medicine Saved This Man's Life

Pneumonia is a serious disease, and often lays the foundation for chronic lung troubles—sometimes tuberculosis results. After pneumonia, or any serious or stubborn cold, it is wise to take Eckman's Alternative.

Don't wait to find out whether the trouble is getting worse, but take Eckman's Alternative in time and avoid the dangers of disease. Head of the recovery in this case.

338 No. 41st St., Philadelphia, Pa.
"Gentlemen, I am getting along very nicely and gaining strength all the time. I now weigh 155 pounds, a gain since September 16, 1907, of 28 pounds more than when I first started to take the Alternative. I wish I had known of it two years ago as it would have saved me much misery and distress."
"I was suffering from a very serious abscessed lung, which followed a bad attack of pneumonia. My physician and a specialist declared my case hopeless."

"I cannot but be very thankful to you and the Almighty God for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me."

"Since writing the above statement I wish to say that I have fully recovered my health, having been cured for over three years."

(Signed) AMANDA L. THOS. REILLY.
Schuman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. W. F. Henning's, Charleroi, Pa.

In the case of the British vessel mentioned there is another, and larger special room, situated next to the provision department. This is about twelve feet in length by four in width. It frequently happens that both strong rooms are filled to their utmost capacity, and on one occasion this liner carried some $50,000,000 in gold bullion packed in small kegs bound with steel hoops.

Gold usually is brought to the vessel on which it is to be shipped the day before the date of sailing, and it is stored away carefully before passengers embark. It arrives at the pier in ordinary trucks under the guard of armed men. The customary method of getting the gold on board is to haul the kegs up an inclined chute to the deck by means of a hoisting engine, but this method is not followed invariably. Sometimes each keg is placed in a sling and carried on board by men detailed for this service.

The receipt given by the steamship company sets forth that so many kegs have been received for shipment, not for any stated amount of gold to the value of so much. The kegs bear the government seal in many instances, and in such cases, when they have been safely put in the strong room, the iron doors thereof are sealed with government wax, the impression being broken only when the official on the other side comes to receive the gold. The kegs are checked twice—when they are taken from the trucks, when they reach the gangway and when they are placed in the strong room.

Although no armed guard stands by the strong room, two men watch the room constantly so long as the ship is in sight of land. As a matter of fact, there is little danger of any one stealing gold in transit on a ship. It would be necessary that he should shoulder a keg weighing some 200 pounds and vanish with it without being seen. Masters of vessels declare gold is the safest cargo of any to handle.

The total weight of one consignment of gold shipped by the British vessel in question amounted to something like 20,000 pounds, or sixteen tons, and the freight charges amounted to $12,000, or, roughly speaking, one-eighth of 1 per cent. Specie thus shipped is insured at its full value.—New York Press.

Weighing the Atmosphere.

If we are to believe both legend and history the first attempt to weigh air was that made by Aristotle, the great Greek philosopher of the fifth century. He just weighed an empty goatskin bag and then inflated it and again put it in the balances and because he found no difference in weight under the two conditions announced to the world that air was a substance wholly without weight. With modern laboratory apparatus most any high school scholar can demonstrate the fact that a flask of ten cubic inches capacity weighs fully three grains more when filled with air than it does after being placed under the exhaust of an air pump. The numerous experiments that have been made on the weight of air warrant the scientists in announcing that the weight of the whole terrestrial atmosphere is about equal to that of a solid copper ball 25 miles in diameter.

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH.

Descendants of the Germans Who Came to This Country in 1682.

To most Americans the word "Dutch" means German. The Dutch are Hollanders from the Netherlands. New York was first settled by the Dutch from Holland.

The first Germans came to this country in 1682 and settled at Germantown. It is estimated that the Germans and their descendants in Pennsylvania numbered 100,000 at the time of our revolution. The descendants of these are called the Pennsylvania Germans or Dutch. The word Dutch is a corruption of Deutsch, meaning German.

The early Germans were followers of Menno Simons, known as Menonites. They were persecuted in their own country on account of their religious belief and when Penn offered religious liberty it was gladly accepted by them. The persecuted Germans came largely from the Rhenish palatinate, Wurtemberg, from the lower Rhine, Alsace, Saxony and Switzerland.

The southeastern counties of Pennsylvania, such as Lancaster, York, Berks and Lebanon, were chosen for settlement. These counties speak a variety of dialects, and, owing to segregation in religious communities, they cling to their mother tongue. English words have since crept in and as a result we have the somewhat picturesque language known as the "Pennsylvania Dutch." Their religious belief and their common interest have preserved this class with singular purity.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Fate of Alcibiades.

The brilliant, witty and dissolute Alcibiades had one of the most extensive experiences in exile that ever fell to the lot of man. While in command of the Sicilian army he was recalled to stand trial for the destruction of the fleets of Hermias, an outrage that had taken place just before his departure. Knowing that his death had been determined on, he escaped to Sparta, where, by adopting the manners of the people, in striking contrast to his former style of luxury he became immensely popular. He engaged in military operations against the Athenians and succeeded so well as to excite the envy of the Spartan leaders, who expelled him, whereupon he went to Persia and lived there with a magnificence that astonished the Persians themselves. He was recalled to Athens with the same capriciousness that marked his ostracism and was appointed commander in chief of all the Athenian forces; but, failing in an important expedition, he was again sent into exile and was finally assassinated in Persia.

A Fashion That Failed.

Charles II. attempted to put down the mutability of fashion—in masculine costume. On Oct. 6, 1666, as Pepys records, the king declared in council "his resolution of setting a fashion in clothes, which he will never alter. It will be a vest. I know not just how, but it is to reach the nobility and will do good." Six days later Pepys sees the Duke of York try on the new "vest," which is again declared to be like the laws of the Medes and Persians. It was "a long cassock close to the body, of black cloth and pinked with white silk under it, and a coat over it, and the legs ruffled with black ribbon like a pizom's leg." But Louis XIV. maliciously dressed all his footmen in this costume, and so did French noblemen, with the result that the English court very soon discarded the "unbecoming" costume.

OUTWITTED A LION.

Clever Tactics of a Plucky and Ingenious African.

This lion, which was not only small in size, but feeble in mind. Yet there is on record an encounter between a bushman and a lion which shows the man as cool in danger, and fertile in resource.

This bushman, while a long way from his home, was met by a lion. The animal, assured that he had his victim completely in his power, began to sport and dally with him with a feline jocosity which the poor little bushman failed to appreciate. The lion would appear at a point in the road and leap back again into the jungle, to reappear a little further on.

The bushman, however, did not lose his presence of mind and presently hit upon a device whereby he might outwit his foe. This plan was suggested by the lion's own conduct.

Aware that the beast was ahead of him, the bushman dodged to the right, and, feeling pretty sure of the lion's whereabouts, resorted to the course of quietly watching his movements.

When the lion discovered that the man had outwitted him, he followed the path he was a good deal perplexed. He roared with mortification. Then he espied the bushman peeping at him over the grass.

The bushman at once changed his position, while the lion stood irresolute in the path, following with his eye the shifting black man. In another moment the little man rushed the lion, vanished and showed himself at another point.

The great brute was first confused and then alarmed. It evidently began to dawn upon him that he had mistaken the position of matters and that he was the hunted party.

The bushman, who clearly recognized the situation, did not pause to permit the lion to recover his startled wits. He began to steal gradually toward the foe, who now, in a complete state of doubt and fear, turned tail and decamped, leaving the plucky and ingenious little bushman master of the situation.—Harper's.

GREAT HORN SPOONS.

The Ones That Are Made by Natives of Southern Alaska.

Horns of the Rocky mountain sheep, the buffalo and the mountain goat are made into dishes, ladles and spoons. Some of these are carved, while others are both carved and inlaid with shell. The decoration is sometimes geometric, but often a conventional representation of animal forms. This is especially true of the spoons of the Indians on the coast of northern British Columbia and southern Alaska. A few of these spoons are so large, so wonderfully artistic and so well made from the horn of the rare Rocky mountain sheep that even a moderately good one may appropriately be called a "great horn spoon." These are of a rich, golden yellow color. By far the greater number of horn spoons in this same region are made of the horn of the mountain goat, and these are black. A few have black handles of goat horn and golden bowls of sheep horn. All these handles are usually carved to represent traditional or mythical men, animals or monsters belonging to the lore of the individual family, just as among our people silver spoons bear the family monogram.—Detroit Free Press.

Church Tower Belfries.

Probably you have noticed that the openings in the belfry of a church are usually filled with a number of slanting boards, sometimes covered with lead. These are improperly called louvres, and many persons imagine that they are so arranged as to keep out the rain. The right name for these slats is abatsons, a word that means to throw down.

Their use is not to keep out the rain, because the wet does not hurt the bells at all and rain can beat in through the openings very easily. They are designed to turn the sound of the bells downward, so that persons on the ground can hear them better. In the middle ages some of these abatsons were beautifully carved and decorated.—New York Press.

The Game of Lacrosse.

The game known as lacrosse was originally played by the Canadian Indians, and from them adopted successively by the French and English settlers, and by them introduced to the United States. The object of the game is to drive the ball through goals situated at each end of the field. The players are usually twelve on a side. In 1867 the Lacrosse Association of Canada was formed, and an Indian team visited Great Britain, creating great excitement. The game is one of real importance in the English sporting world.

Clearly incompetent.
"Have you ever been married before?" asked the license clerk.

"Great heavens, young man!" exclaimed the experienced prima donna. "Don't you read the papers?"

Whereupon she wired immediate instructions to discharge her press agent.—Washington Star.

After a banquet a prominent man was asked by a close friend:

"Well, did you manage to stay sober?"

"Oh, yes," he replied, "but my health was drunk."—Judge's Library.

A DYED BEARD.

It Probably Changed the History of the Whole Human Race.

The most striking case in history of the importance of trifles is furnished by the story of Musa, the leader of the Moslems, who won from Christendom in three and a half years' campaigns which took the soldiers of the cross twenty generations to win back. He had a red beard. This was a trifle.

Musa, though a very great general, was a very vain man, and he dyed his beard black. This was another trifle. One of his captains chafed him on the subject, and Musa forthwith had him striped and scourged. For this, at the very height of his conquering career, Musa was recalled by the caliph and disgraced. This made it impossible for him to command the Moslem army at the battle of Tours, on the issue of which, as all historians agree, the destinies of Europe and perhaps of the whole human race depended.

It is almost certain that if the genius of Musa had replaced the incompetence of the half dozen tribal leaders whose dissensions made victory impossible the forces of Islam would have joined hands from the west to the east and included Europe in their grasp.

Caution by Reflection.

It is found that a concave spherical mirror reflects rays only come to a definite focus in the point when the angular aperture of the mirror does not exceed 3 or 10 degrees. With a larger aperture the rays reflected near the edge cut the axis of the mirror at a point nearer its surface than those from points immediately around the center. This is so and the curve of the mirror being continuous, a corresponding curve of successive focal points is formed in space and can be rendered visible by the rays falling on a reflecting surface, such as a sheet of white paper or a tablecloth. The napkin ring is a cylinder and possesses the properties of the spherical mirror along one diameter. The rays falling upon portions more remote from the center line are brought to a different focus from those falling nearer the center, and this produces the peculiar heart shaped reflection. These figures are known as "caustics by reflection" and can be well observed by allowing the light of a candle to fall on the inside of a cup or tumbler partly filled with milk.

He Wouldn't Advertise

Breathes there a man, with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:

"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another eight-inch ad."

If such there be, go mark him well;
For him no bank account shall swell,

No angels watch the golden stair
To welcome home the millionaire

The man who never asks for trade
By local line or ad. displayed,

Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain,

Tread lightly friends; let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound,

Here let him live in calm repose,
Unsought except by men he owes

And when he dies, go plant him deep,
That naught may break his dreamless sleep;

Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.

And when the world may know its loss,
Place on his grave a wreath of moss,

And on the stone above, "Here lies
A chump who wouldn't advertise."

Advertise and the world is with you.

Don't and you'll be alone.

For the world today will never pay
A Cent to the Great Unknown.

FILE PETITION FOR MORTGAGE

The executors of the estate of S. G. Walker, late of West Pike Run township, have filed a petition with the court for the leave to mortgage three tracts of land in Fallowfield township in which M. Walker holds the individual half interest. The amount of the mortgage to be placed on the real estate is $62,000 or less if that amount is not required to liquidate certain claims against Mr. Walker's estate.

The petitioners in asking for the privilege of placing the mortgage set forth that the personal estate of Mr. Walker amounted to $106,477.51 and that from this amount debts to the amount of $39,722.60 have been paid. Besides his personal estate of over $100,000 he owned a 350 acre tract on which he lived and a half interest in three tracts containing 194, 245 and 194 acres respectively, besides several large orange groves in Florida.

The executors asking for the mortgage are S. E. Taylor, J. W. Walker and L. G. Walker.

MOUTHPIECES

ARE GERMLESS

So Telephone Trade Paper Affirms After Thorough Examination is Made

Nearly two years ago the Postmaster General at London became interested in the reports that tuberculosis could be communicated by the use of the telephones, particularly those for public use. In order to confirm or refute such a statement he arranged that a number of them be selected from various places and that they be delivered to a well known bacteriologist for examination. Special care was taken to obtain instruments that were without the possibility of having been disinfected or even cleansed and the same care was taken to see that they reached the testing laboratory in the exact condition in which they were removed from public use. They were taken from postoffices, railway depots, meat markets and other places frequented by the public.

The laboratory used is that of St. George's Hospital Medical School, Hyde Park Corner, S. W., and the work was done in the Clinical Investigation Department under the supervision of Dr. H. R. D. Spitta, Superintendent.

Washings were made of the mouthpieces and the whole contents were then injected in guinea pigs. The animals were kept in separate cages under supervision and killed a few weeks later. Exhaustive examinations proved that they were absolutely healthy. From the twenty-one telephones used in the test no tubercle bacilli were found.

From a subsequent series of tests ending February 16 of the present year, and made with instruments used in the tests ending February 16 of the present year, and made with instruments used wholly by consumptive patients, the same results were obtained. The tests were made at the Primley Sanatorium with instruments installed at the bedside of phthisical patients undergoing treatment. They were in use by the patients at regular periods for a number of days just prior to the test.

Tests were also made by the American Government, and like proofs resulted. From all these exhaustive and impartial experiments it has been proved beyond question that not the slightest danger of communication of the disease is possible through the medium of the telephone.—Telephone News—August 1, 1912.

HIGH WATER; NO MAIL; QUARRELL

Mail Carrier and Ruralists at West Brownsville Said to Have Come to Blows

An alleged attack on a rural mail carrier from West Brownsville by a patron of the route promises to reach the county courts. Last week while R. R. McKinley was going over his route he alleges that I. C. Hornell attacked him after an argument over the delivery of a paper and as a result McKinley was knocked down, lost a tooth and is now suffering from a badly swollen jaw.

The dispute arose over a paper that had been delivered or rather was not delivered during the high water. McKinley alleged that he received no papers during the high water period in time to deliver over his route. It is reported that McKinley had said Hornell was a liar but McKinley denied the allegation and further said if Hornell insisted that he had said such a thing he was a liar.

At this time it is alleged that Hornell struck the representative of the government.

HUSSEY-BINNS TEAM DEFEATS MONESSEN STARS

There was nothing to it but Charleroi after the first inning in a ball game played between the Hussey Binns team and the Monessen Church League All Stars on the local field Saturday afternoon. In the first the visitors aroused their own hopes and put the Charleroi folks on their mettle by scoring three of their runs. Their lead was short lived. After the first the local boys scored in nearly every inning. Osborne pitched fine ball, allowing but four hits, and he was given gilt-edged support.
